Port Dedication Doesn't Spell End To Planning, Building

The Anchorage port is being dedicated this weekend, but plans and construction still continue at the $8.2 million dock facility.

Installation of a terminal shed heating system, costing are at the standard shed and make a decision port revenue per ship may facility for distribution of said.

The COMMISSION has dispersed to the proposed Shell from the Air Force, Roloff said.

The Commission has dispersed to the proposed Shell from the Air Force, Roloff said.

The Commission has dispersed to the proposed Shell from the Air Force, Roloff said.

The Commission has dispersed to the project," Roloff explained.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff explained.

The Commission has dispersed to the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has decision on the project, Roloff said.

The Commission has shed heating system, costing also may be improved this gotiations with the latter are acres to install a steel yard $104,344, is about 60 per cent year. This would include the in the final stages, Roloff ex- and baling machine to pre- On a recent trip to Washcomplete, said Henry Roloff, relocation of Alaska Railroad plained.

ditions, the access road to the port may be paved this season, Roloff continued.

A title transferring owner-for space in the 41-acre port j unked car bodies, Roloff said.

Son, Roloff continued.

Son, Roloff continued.

In addition, the Public Land Management is en route of the structure and the port from the Bureau of Fairbanks, wants one acre projected use of the facility, added.

Son Roloff continued.

Northern Gas Co., Inc. of Fairbanks, wants one acre projected use of the facility, added.

Son Roloff continued.

Son

10 acres for a warehouse. To expand the port area, a "proper use."

purchase of five more acres said.

is considering other requests squeeze to a cube the area's chairman Harold Strandberg tion they would pay and their ing for the facility would be amount of port revenue which the commission is seeking Construction of petroleum "After getting close transfer of 28 acres from the handling facilities is roughly mates of dredging, expected

"I am to try to obtain a mated oil shipments could discharge a variety of pro-expand it to offer additional pare scrap metal for export, ington and New York City, firm commitment from the reach 20 tankers of 115,000 ducts, Roloff said. tracks at an estimated cost Also, the port commission he said. The baler would Roloff and port commission major oil firms on what por- barrel capacity yearly. Gross military reserve and perhaps estimated at $300,000, Roloff to cost $30,000 to $100,000,

CITY PORT OPEN FOR BUSINESS...

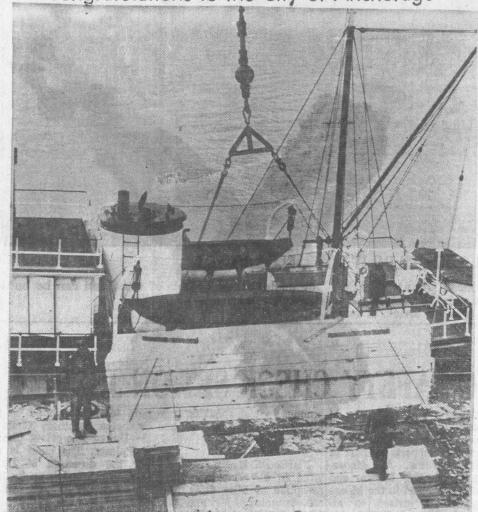

AND WE ARE GLAD TO HAVE PLAYED A PART IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF OUR NEW CITY PORT

Ramstad Construction Co., Inc.

GENERAL CONTRACTORS

Congratulations to the City of Anchorage

... on the Official Opening of the

NEW PORT

NORTH STAR TERMINAL & STEVEDORE CO.

PORT'S PENNANT WILL FLY AT DEDICATION

ANCHORAGE DEDICATES ITS PORT TOMORROW

unloaded with the dock's gantry cranes

Seaside view of the city's new $8.2 million port facility, which will be dedicated in formal ceremonies at 11 a.m. tomorrow. About 5,700 tons of cargo have crossed the dock since the port began operation April 21. Here a ship is being Port Director Henry Roloff, right, and Donald Walter, business manager, display the port of Anchorage's newly designed flag. It will be presented at ceremonies tomorrow by Miss June Bowish, Miss Port of Anchorage, to mark formal opening of the city's marine terminal.

OUR COMPLIMENTS

TO THE . . .

CITIZENS OF ANCHORAGE

ON THE COMPLETION OF THIS FINE SEAPORT FACILITY,

The PORT of ANCHORAGE

Bringing to Anchorage a New Era of Industrial Growth and Development in International Trade

ALL TYPES OF INDUSTRIAL, COMMERCIAL, RESIDENTIAL PAINTING

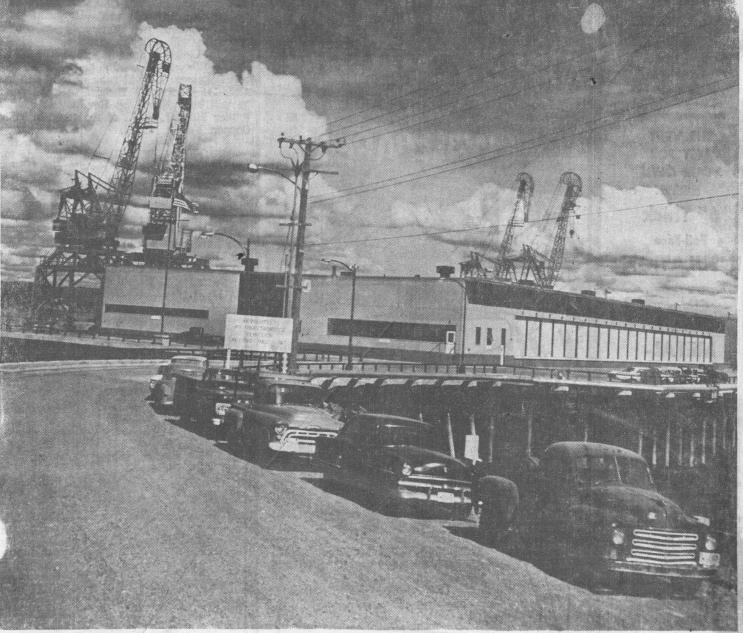

PAINTING AND DECORATING

316 EAST 1st AVENUE

Office Phone: BR 5-0201

Shop Phone: BR 2-1041

Dedication of Anchorage's new multi-million dollar port facility is something in which every citizen can take great pride as our community joins the ports of the world. The spacious steel structures — part of one of the most modern ports on the Pacific Ocean – were built by Western Construction Co. of Anchorage. We extend our congratulations to all who have worked and dreamed of this great addition to our city.

We invite you to call on us whenever your needs call for wide, clear span buildings with a modern, distinctive appearance.

Road

BRoadway 7-0771